Elizabeth is from the area known as The Golden Triangle-Raleigh, Durham, Chapel Hill which is consistently ranked as one of the best places in the USA to live, do business, and receive an education. Elizabeth was born and raised in an Air Force family and lived in several very interesting places as a child (Alaska, Hawaii, and Newfoundland). A move in 1997 brought Elizabeth and husband Dice to Durham, home of Duke University, which brought family ties full circle. "My husband's parents, Jim Allardice and Rebecca Mc Carrell, met at Duke in the early 1930's, graduated and later married. Jim worked his way through Duke playing trumpet with Johnny Long and Les Brown's Duke Collegians band. We learned early on what shade of blue was in our blood!" Her focus is often marketing the "niche" luxury, relocation, and golf course markets. She has been awarded the prestigious Certified International Property Specialist (CIPS) with expertise in working with international clients. She is an active member of the National Association of REALTORS® and was elected as Regional Vice President for Region 10. Allardice was a member of NCAR Board of Directors from 2005-2007, member of the NCAR Legislative Committee, and a member of the board of the REALTOR® Foundation of the Triangle. She is a broker associate with Cooke Property representing the Triangle area of North Carolina.
